INTRODUCTION

Beth is the emcee planners bring in when the message has to land, the speakers have to shine, and the run of show has to work.

Her style was forged in television newsrooms – first as a writer and producer in Chicago, then for years on-air as an Emmy-nominated reporter and host with NBC affiliate KWQC in Davenport, Iowa and on the #1 morning show, Good Morning Arizona, at KTVK in Phoenix. With an Emmy-winning webcast career layered on top, she brings a producer’s brain and a broadcaster’s presence to corporate events.

Planners don’t hire Beth to “host.” They hire her to make the entire program work.

THE MISSION

To safeguard the run of show, sharpen the corporate message, help every speaker shine on stage, and keep the audience having so much fun they wished it wasn’t over.
